ProVolley Camps

ProVolley provides camps with astounding coaches that have been apart of every facet of volleyball including, USA volleyball, NCAA players and Champions, professional volleyball players, and also NCAA coaches. The concept of the camp is to have these high-level elite coaches teach not just individual and basic position techniques, but to also connect each individual together through the full team exercises and drills that sets this camp apart from others. In the end, all techniques, drills, and exercises will be actively applied by the teams as there will be a competitive tournament that will be held at the end of each camp day.

Coach Laguna Beach Volleyball Club Summer 2007

Setup practice plans to train a team that I would later supervise and coach at the Reno Girl's Volleyball Nationals.

Strength & Conditioning Coach UCLA Men's Volleyball Team 2006-2007

Coordinated training times, and workouts to physically train the top Volleyball program in the Country.

Coach at Orange Coast Volleyball Club 2005

Teach the correct techniques and qualities for not just becoming great volleyball player, but to develop good character, which is a main quality for an athlete to have when competing in a team sport.

Co-Founder, Director and Coach

2011-Present

- Founded and established ProVolley in 2011 and worked with schools in 15 different cities.
- Successfully put over 150 kids, ages 9-18, through rigorous 3-day volleyball clinics designed to enhance their skills during the off-season. We anticipate more than 300 kids in this coming 2013 season.

“My Athletic Career was filled with obstacles and a lot of learning. From these experiences I was able to become a leader (captain) of every team I played for before I left, because I exemplified hard work, the ability to overcome anything and an attitude with my teammates that joined us to work together for our common goal that we achieved every time a CHAMPIONSHIP!”
